

Salton, Herman

LCSA1116

A History of International Relations in 30 objects

Asian University for Women

04-10-2016 -05-12-2016

Local Code: 1

Comments: Use the space provided in the text area below for your comments.

- Amazing course
- I have learnt a lot in this course. Thanks to professor Salton's interesting class discussions.
- It is a different course because we never really focus on international relations through objects. IR is not all about abstract policies. It can be materialistic and can be collected in museums.
- Professor is great and makes understanding of the reading materials easier in the class. Overall, great course to learn about International relation in 50 objects.
- This course is the best one with so much informative. I really happy to took this course. Its some thing new and interesting. Thanks
- I will definitely rate this course as an excellent one considering the content, the way professor taught and the analytical approach he appreciated us to take. I would suggest to increase the number objects taught in the course. Waiting for one year to get this course was worth it!
- He has been an amazing professor, always supportive and encouraging. He has raised my interest in the following subject. His method of teaching is very effective and I could relate it real life experiences. I more than glad that I have taken this course with him.