- One of the best professors
- Overall, he instructor is the best professor for balancing real world and ideal world which I found this ability very rare in other professors in AUW.
- Dear professor, I really like your personality since you are very kind and nice to us! However, it seems like I don't fit with your style of teaching. At the beginning of the semester, you always spent a lot of time on explaining for some of the students in irrelevant questions which wasted a lot of our time and you could not cover all the content of the reading materials that we were required to read (and this discouraged me in reading before coming to class), however, in the second half of this semester, I see that you control time better than before, and your lecture makes sense for me more than before. So, please try to balance your time in class. This is just personal idea, other students might like your style of teaching. Anyway, though in compare with other classes, I did not improve and gain much knowledge from this class, I did improve to some extent. Hope you can adjust your style of teaching. Hopefully, your students next semester will like you :)
- Dear professor, i just want to say that from this course i have learned many new things that i had never cared before. However, i think this course can be improved by having good time management in class hour. I recommend that you should focus more on the main ideas of the readings. In class, you also give us the main ideas, but it's not enough, not cover all the important things in the readings. I am very curious and want to know more about the knowledge that i read in the book and want to discuss them in class.
- He is an excellent professor. The only problem is the topic of this course is difficult (at least for me). So, it would be better before assigning any project if he teaches us more on how to do that (For example giving a demo exam or paper) in class it would be more benefited :)
- I think he is a very nice professor who teaches the subject with enthusiastically and makes things clear for us. International ethics is a very confusing subject. he made it clear for us. he can show us some more video and pictures to advance our learning
- This course is very informative to better understand and learn international politics and its ethics. The course opened an entirely new area of interest and happy to have this awesome experience.
- This course is very interesting. He explains the course contents very clearly which improves our understanding. Overall, I think his way of teaching is excellent.
- The instructor is an amazing teacher and wonderful human being. I really loved and enjoyed the way he taught us throughout the whole semester. Moreover, I would always love to take another course of him.
